To select which ribbon to use is determined by:

- ① The brand & model of printer you have. Check your printer specifications to ascertain whether the carbon side should be wound in or wound out and the length of ribbon your printer is capable of taking.
- ② The material you are printing on (see below).

Wax Ribbons are suitable for matt paper stocks.

Wax/Resin Ribbons are suitable for gloss paper stocks or synthetic (waterproof) stocks. These ribbons are a premium wax resin formulation designed to print on a wide variety of label material.

Resin Ribbons are suitable for polyester stocks and difficult to print synthetic stocks. These ribbons have superior chemical and abrasion resistance which makes them the perfect choice for demanding applications. In addition they have heat resistant qualities up to 170°C.
